Thaler Reveals Beauty Queens In Book Contest

Earl Carroll Acts As Contest Judge For Cherry Tree

• ELEVEN CANDIDATES for the Cherry Tree Beauty Queen contest were announced by Anne Thaler last week. They are: Elizabeth Roch, Alpha Delta Pi; Isabel Knowles, Delta Gamma; Jean Eberman, Delta Zeta; Charlene Holly, Zeta Tau Alpha; Virginia Sharp, Kappa Delta; Jean Kerr, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Roberta Grigsby, Pi Beta Phi; Shirley Rodgers, Sigma Kappa; Gloria Baker, Phi Mu; Joan Gering, Phi Sigma Sigma; and Julio Anderson, Chi Omega.

Deadline in the L. C. Balfour Co. sponsored photo contest is January 4. All photos, glossy prints, must be submitted to Felicia Miller at 2918 18th Street, N.W., or at The Cherry Tree office in Building K on Fridays at 12:30 p.m.

Contestants must submit head and shoulder pictures by December 10 and report to Anne Thaler on that date in Columbian House to have their measurements taken.

Earl Carroll, connoisseur of feminine pulchritude, will judge this year's contest.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Earl Carroll moved to New York City to begin a career of song writing. During the early twenties, he changed his vocation to show business, in which he featured beautiful women and closely rivaled Ziegfeld's "Follies."

His "Earl Carroll Vanities" was such a success that he went to Hollywood to produce them for movies. He is now residing in Hollywood, where he is proprietor of the Earl Carroll Supper Club. His business of selecting and publicizing beautiful women keeps him constantly alert for a new "find."

In contrast to last year's Cherry Tree Beauty contest, in which the candidates were judged in person by three servicemen, this year Mr. Carroll will select the queen from photographs and measurements submitted by the eleven sororities.

Winner of the contest will not be announced until the yearbook comes out early in May.

Judges Announce New Cheerleaders Via Club Poster

• NAMES OF THE new University cheerleaders will be announced in a poster to be posted in the Student Club tomorrow, Liz Wells, judge and former leader, disclosed today.

Tryouts for new cheerleaders were held yesterday and today in Recreation Hall. The judges were Liz Wells, Betty Lou Trowbridge, Dottie Simmons, and Elaine Smith, students; Helen Lawrence and Virginia Dennis of the physical education department; Elmer Louis Kayser, Dean of University Students, and Floyd Sparks, director of Cue and Curtain.

A contest for new University cheers is being sponsored by the Student Council. A prize worth $10 will be awarded for the best cheer submitted to Liz Wells in the Pi Phi Rooms by December 13. Liz Wells, Dottie Simmons, and Elaine Smith are all former cheerleaders of the University. Liz and Dottie led the cheers at the Sports Rally held on October 29.

Rifle Club Meets

• RIFLE RANGE in the basement of Corcoran Hall will be the scene of the first meeting of the Rifle Club at 12:15 tomorrow. Old members and all those interested in becoming members are invited to attend, Elaine Smith, president of W. A. A. announced.

ANNE PETERSON

Olympic Group Dances Again At Shoreham

• MILITARY AND Diplomatic Corps of Latin America will be special guests at the second Olympics dance to be held in the New Ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel, December 17 from 8:30 to 12:30.

Guest speakers at the dance will be four congressmen, with Johnny of Phillip Morris acting as master of ceremonies and calling the dances. The Capitol Studio will present a variety of Latin American acts, with music furnished by Buddy Garrison and his orchestra.

The dance is being sponsored by the AKBA Club and the Students Committee for D. C. Olympics as further agitation for a new stadium and the 1952 Olympics in Washington.

First of this series of dances was held November 26 and was successful in proving the interest of the university students in national and international issues.

Students of Catholic, Georgetown, American, and the University are invited, stag or drag. Servicemen and women, and discharged veterans will also be welcomed. There will be no admission fee, and dress will be optional.

A group of hostesses for the event will be needed. Anyone desiring to volunteer should contact Betty Weethee at Strong Hall, Metropolitan 5322, extension 613.

Hatchet Staff Awards Prize For Clever Letters to Santa

• IN THE FLURRY of exams and with thoughts of egg nog, have you forgotten to write your letter to Santa Claus?

If your old typewriter keys hit the wrong letters, you'll want a new one this year, or perhaps you would rather have a book on "How to be a Glamour Girl in Five Easy Lessons." You may even want a jitney so you can take your girl home in style. Just write a letter to Kris Kringle and tell him what you want for Christmas. With the war over and industry reconverted, Santa reports that things are going to be better this year.

With the Christmas mail so heavy, The Hatchet Staff is helping Santa out by forwarding his letters to the North Pole via the Hatchet Express. On the night of

Directors To Offer Cup In Drive

Student Pledges Expected to Hit $1 Semester Goal

• WANTED: $5000 for charity. Such is the goal set for the All-University Charities Drive Fund by co-directors Lois Lord and Chuck Wallack. Purpose of the drive is to coordinate all the many charity drives on the campus, held separately in the past.

Campus organizations which wish to contribute are to fill out pledge cards, the required minimum pledge being one dollar each semester. The Student Council will award a cup to the organization turning in the largest contribution. Should the actual cash contribution of another organization be greater, when pledges are fulfilled in the spring, however, the cup will be transferred to that organization at the May Day Festival.

Individuals and campus organizations which wish to contribute to the fund do not have to enter the contest. During the drive, there will be a booth in the Student Club, open from 12 to 1 during the day to receive contributions. A second booth will be open in Government from 5 to 6 in the evening from December 3 to December 12.

Organizations which will share in the distribution of the fund include the Red Cross, the Community War Fund, the National Tuberculosis Association, the National Symphony, the Infantile Paralysis Fund, Cherry Blossom, and the Children's Christmas Party. Money will be divided among the organizations according to their budgets and past contributions made by University students.

Koenig Announces Withdrawal Date From All Classes

• MYRON L. KOENIG, Dean of the Junior College, announced that the deadline for withdrawal from courses will be Friday, December 21.

A student who is obliged to withdraw from the University or from a course must immediately notify the dean of the college, school, or division in which he is registered.

Permission to withdraw from the University cannot be obtained by a student who has not a clear financial record.

The grade of F (failing) will be given in a course dropped without the approval of the dean.

All charges for courses dropped without the approval of the dean must be met by the student. Reporting the dropping of a course to an instructor does not effect its discontinuance.

Student Council Breaks Precedent In New Balloting

Dean Emcees WAA Banquet; Veteran Talks

• DEAN ELMER Louis Kayser will act as master of ceremonies at the Women's Athletic Association's annual fall banquet to be held December 6 at 6 p.m. in Barker Hall, YWCA, 17th and K Streets, N. W.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be Miss Ruth Diamond who has spent twenty-nine months overseas with the American Red Cross and will talk about some of her experiences there. Miss Jenny Turnbull, who has recently returned from the WAVES, will also speak.

A program of entertainment is planned. Tennis cups will be awarded, letters will be given out, and hockey and soccer managers will be announced.

Members of the faculty and the student body are invited. Elaine Smith, president, reported. Tickets are $1.30 and can be procured from WAA members or in the Physical Education office in Building H.

An important event of the recent WAA meeting was the announcement made by Sue Berger of the revision of the point system. Under the new rules, 500 points are required for a minor letter, and 1,000 points for a major letter.

A chart illustrating the revised system will be posted in Building H in order that students can figure out their own points.

Colonials Play

• FIRST GAME to be played by the Colonials in the University's return to intercollegiate sports will take place with Fort Myers on Friday, December 14. See the story on Page 7.

COGS Completes Plans For Group

• WITH THE registration of 110 girls, COGS, under the direction of Dorothy Eggeling and Marcia Bartlett, announce plans for a series of new projects. Meetings will continue to be held every Monday at 4 p.m. in D-103.

A recreation unit, which will include craft and sports units for singing, story-telling, and record-playing will be organized soon. Physical Education majors, or others interested, are needed in this project to organize games, and people with dramatic talent to direct. (See COGS, Page 3)

Criticism Brings Elections Re-Run December 14, 15

By DICK GENERALLY

• CLASS ELECTIONS will be re-run for all classes December 13 and 14 in the Student Club, it was announced Monday by Anne Peterson, president of the Student Council.

This decision, unprecedented in the University's history, was reached by a majority vote of the Council after criticism had been made that the first election was inefficiently managed due to incomplete records of voting class members.

In revealing plans for the new election, Anne Peterson stated, "In view of the criticism that has been directed at the recent class elections, the Student Council feels that they should be reheld to eliminate part of the prevailing doubts. With the lists we now have, the balloting this time will be beyond any possible reproach. Cooperation is asked on the part of the students and the candidates."

The new election system will require voters to sign their ballots and, in addition, indicate their class. The polls will be roped off to lessen chances of electioneering within the prohibited zone. Actual balloting will take place between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., and 5:30 and 7:00 p.m., at the Student Council booth in the Student Club on December 13 and 14.

All candidates who ran in the first election will be considered again whether they choose to run again or not. They include:

Senior Class
President: Bill Long, Betty Starkey.
Vice-President: Molly Edwards, Joe Holtzman, Delores Lancaster.
Secretary-Treasurer: Louise Bender, Dorothy Snyder.

Junior Class
President: Jean "Gughead" Jones, Larry Strickland.
Vice-President: Vivian Burke, Bill Hamm.
Secretary-Treasurer: Lois Lord, Lorraine Seigrist.

Sophomore Class
President: Jean Ferguson, Dick Generally.
Vice-President: Nancy Hanck, Eddie Wadden.
Secretary-Treasurer: Frances Cogswell, Barbara Hanby, Eugene Lee.

Freshman Class
President: Scottie Brawner, Walt Foley, John P. McClure, Diana Roosevelt, Howard Tickton.
Vice-President: Jim Hamilton, Calve (Keppe) Kephart, Jane Pancoast.

Secretary-Treasurer: Carol Cohen, Norma Foust, Roberta Lush, Ione Masterson.

Box Office Opens For Ticket Sales

• TICKETS FOR Cue 'n' Curtain's next production, "Silver Cord," to be presented on Friday and Saturday, December 14 and 15, went on sale yesterday in the box office in Lisner Auditorium.

The box office will be open every day from noon until 7 p.m. The price of the tickets is $1.20.

The lead of Mrs. Phelps, who is a domineering mother trying to completely control the lives of her two sons, will be played by Cay Knockey. David and Robert, the two sons, will be portrayed by Dick Lathrop and John P. McClure.

Mimi Branson has been cast as Hester, the fiancée of David, and Margaret Frye as Christina, the wife of Robert.

In the understudy cast are Bob McBride and Tom Lodge, Jr., as David and Robert; Sally Crammer as the mother, Mrs. Phelps; and Betty Lou Trowbridge and Joanna MacIre as Hester and Christina.

Van Evera Speaks

• AFTER TWO YEARS' war leave, Professor Benjamin Douglas Van Evera, professor of chemistry, returns and will address students, alumni and faculty members on "Civilian Science in Wartime," for second Alumni Lecture, Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in Government 1.

We Point With Pride To

• THE BASKETBALL TEAM . . . A vote of thanks is long past due the students and the administration for their sincere efforts and cooperation to put a basketball team into intercollegiate competition. It is with pride and anticipation that the students are looking forward to the first game December 14.

• CHEERLEADERS . . . After a long absence of three years it will be a welcome sound to hear University cheers echoing through the gymnasium. The sample at the Sports Rally could only bring a clamor for more. Liz Well, Dot Simmons, Elaine Smith, and Miss Lawrence have taken the initiative in organizing a pep squad and have obtained the financial backing of the Student Council to formulate a roster of new yell. The results will depend on the turn out of material (and there must be many an experienced cheer leader here now). All that remains is for the students themselves to support the team by coming to the games and making a top notch enthusiastic cheering section.

• CHERRY TREE STAFF . . . The staff and its backers, the Student Council, gave a sigh of relief when yearbook sales hit the 800 goal mark. Unfortunately this is true even with the increased enrollment we now have. Renovation is a slow process, but eventually maybe each student will be required to buy a yearbook along with his activity book. Even an independent budget could be set up for not only the Cherry Tree but all activities.

• ACTIVITY COUNCIL PRESENTS AND THE COMBINED CHARITY DRIVE . . . The program presented yesterday in the auditorium was one which so many students should not have missed, and the causes which it sponsored should not be taken lightly. We have been waiting a long time for a combined drive. Each student should be behind this effort with his time and his money.

ENLARGED HATCHET AND GAZETTE . . .
CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS . . .

But View With Alarm

• BUFF AND BLUE . . . 'Tis sad to relate how the first Buff and Blue went in the red. Reasons could have been that this was the Army-Navy football weekend or that $35 was donated to the Student Club and $14 to Uncle Sam. Or it could have been the lack of publicity, the fact that tickets went on sale so late, or the "strange" music. At any rate, there certainly have been more enjoyable "Dry Night Clubs." With two months to prepare for and publicize the next one in

Pledge to the Future

• TOMORROW WE COMMEMORATE the fourth anniversary of Pearl Harbor. December 7, 1941, America was shocked by the Japanese sneak attack. The United States was suddenly plunged into a devastating war. We are only now beginning to learn the true story behind the bungling and unpreparedness that made Pearl Harbor possible.

The past five years have changed the world as has no other comparable period in history. Five years ago today the University was complacent in its outlook. The college world danced gaily unaware of the grim tragedies it would know that Saturday night, Dec. 6, 1941. America was by dint of war activities just emerging from the depression. There was a feeling that the diplomats would smooth out our differences with Japan. The war in Europe seemed far removed from fraternity gatherings that night.

However, Monday morning found classes filled with a grave student body—stunned by the declaration of war. Classes were dismissed to hear President Roosevelt's message to Congress and the world. For once over 2,000 students attended a specially called assembly. President Marvin dedicated the University to the war effort.

That pledge of December 9, 1941, was faithfully carried out. Thousands of students fought—even died—on every battlefield. Our research staff devoted its time and energy to the development of secret weapons. Our scientists even contributed to the perfection of the atomic bomb. Through their endeavor, countless lives were saved and final victory was ours.

That is the memory of yesterday. A new era has come. The atomic age is here. The future that lies ahead is uncertain. America cannot return to its isolationism. Civil war wages in China and Indonesia; riots have broken out in Palestine; Argentina is swept by unrest; war criminals are being tried in Nurnberg. In the United States, streetcar men, telephone operators, automobile workers are striking; hearings are being held on Pearl Harbor causes. People are trying to settle down to normal living again, but the ordered peaceful world has not yet come.

In the days and years that lie before us, let us not forget December 7, 1941, and what it has meant. Let us never be found so unprepared again! Let us, as students, now dedicate our lives to maintain a lasting peace. Let this be our pledge to those who come back and to those who will forever rest in foreign soil!

Ten-Minute Break

WITH PHIP . . .

ON THE BALL . . .

• AFTER SO LONG a time, it is good to see the Veterans once more about club business with that old spark of enthusiasm. With a turnout of over forty, the last meeting could not help being successful.

The 1945-46 membership drive has finally begun. Dues are $1.00 to join and $2.00 per semester thereafter. All ex-servicemen should be included and should take part in their campus organization. First meeting of the new movement will be Tuesday, December 11, at 8:30 in Gov. 101. Such committees as housing, employment, sports and activities, will help both the new and old veteran to get established on campus and to solve any problems that come up. The club office will again resume business, 9 to 5, on the third floor of the Information Center, Building F.

Also revived is the monthly club paper Male Call, the first issue of which has already been published. The next issue is promised sometime in January. Both the University and the Club are looking forward to the Anniversary Dance to be held during the first two weeks of the coming semester in February.

It is about time this important organization were recognizing its purpose and forgetting its internal strife.

NOW AVAILABLE . . .

• THERE IS NOW available in the Veterans' office and the University library a handbook published by the Selective Service. Comprehensive and well-classified, it readily answers any problems or questions.

The guide put out by the American Council on Education, which was discussed in a previous issue as the standard used to determine advance standing, can now be seen at the Veterans' office. Those wishing to know whether they should apply for credit on the basis of their service training or whether they received sufficient credit on their application can drop in and look it up in the three volume series.

February, there should not, and need not, be a repetition of last Friday night.

• CLASS ELECTIONS . . . Until Monday we could almost point with pride to the fact that all of the classes were organized this year. Nominations were up and elections were held. As with all closely contested elections, there was criticism. The Council at least had the courage to realize that there could be improvement on the system used at first. They could not be so idealistic as to expect that any new election will not bring the same flood of complaints. Results may change, but the officers can relax without worrying that their posts will be taken away. Maybe then they can devote their time to planning a program collecting dues, and organizing their respective classes instead of campaigning and recampaigning.

• THE STUDENT CLUB . . . The Student Council has been vaguely talking and promising to do something about improving the only recreational and eating spot on campus for all students, but we have yet to see any concrete improvements. This is one project which should not bog down in the Christmas rush. How about that, Council?

• PLAY-GOERS . . . Cue and Curtain presents its second production of the year, "The Silver Cord," December 14 and 15. This time Lisner should be more than half filled. The choice of the play, the rehearsal reports and the cast itself indicate that this presentation will far surpass the first. It will warrant any student getting his reserved seat early and supporting one of the finest college drama groups in the country.

• FINALS BUT A MONTH AWAY . . .

• SCARCITY OF POTENTIAL LEADERS IN VIEW

OF THE POINT SYSTEM WHICH GOES INTO EFFECT THIS SPRING . . .

Professors Hold AAUP Meeting

Faculty Selects
Tillema as Head;
Atwell Also Elected

JOHN ALBERT TILLEMA, professor of political science, was elected president for 1945-46, at the annual fall meeting of the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors last Wednesday.

Professor Tillema succeeds Dr. Lowell Ragatz, professor of European history, who has been president for the past two years. Ruth Harriet Atwell, professor of physical education for women, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Purpose of the American Association of University Professors is to bring about more effective cooperation among members of this profession and to make possible more general discussion of problems relating to education.

Founded in November, 1913, by a conference of representatives of various universities, the Association now numbers over 16,000 members. This membership is distributed in 615 accredited colleges and universities and represents approximately one-fourth of all eligible college and university professors.

The University chapter was founded in 1919 and now has 75 members.

Membership is open to all college and university instructors from the faculties of eligible institutions, to graduate students, and to graduate assistants.

Election to membership in the Association may take place 30 days after nomination by one active member.

Magazine Opens Literary Contest For All Students

A $1,500 PRIZE contest open to all students officially enrolled in colleges throughout the United States has been announced by Tomorrow magazine.

The best short story and the best article will each receive a first prize of $500, while second prize in both of these categories will be $25.

The choice of subject matter for both stories and articles is left to the discretion of the contestants, and no theme is actually prohibited. Manuscripts will be judged solely on the basis of literary merit and clarity of expression.

The board of judges includes Allen Tate of the University of the South; Professor William Blackburn of Duke University; President Stringfellow Barr, St. John's College; and Dr. Elizabeth Manwaring of Wellesley College.

Length of manuscripts may range from 500 to 2,500 words. The notation "Entry for College Contest" along with the name and address of the contestant must appear on the envelope and also on the first page of each manuscript. Return postage must also be included.

The contest closes on May 1, 1946. All entries should be mailed to College Contest, Tomorrow, 11 East 44th Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Tomorrow will publish both the prize-winning story and article in its December 1946 issue. However, all manuscripts will be considered for publication, whether or not they receive awards.

rect plays. Also needed are people interested in crafts.

Evening programs and recreation, being planned for teen-age girls, will be given at the Episcopal Home for Children instead of the Industrial Home School, which has been reorganized. This project, broken into three groups, meets Tuesdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Fridays from 3:30 to 5 and Saturdays from 2 to 2:30 p.m.

Another project to be undertaken by COGS this year under the direction of Barbara Martin will be the wrapping of Christmas gifts for the children at the Washington Heart Society.

Tryouts for anyone interested in entertaining at U.S.O. dances and camp shows will be held at the Thompson School on December 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone who wishes to join any of the COGS groups may attend meetings on Mondays or send representatives, Director Bartlett concluded.

Activities Council Assembly Launches All-University Drive

OVER 1,200 STUDENTS attended the first of the Student Activities Council assemblies yesterday in Lisner Auditorium from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. Purpose of the assembly was the opening of the All-University Drive.

Bill Long served as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers, Mr. G. Ott Romney, the Red Cross director of the recreation and club services to the armed forces; Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe, the National Symphony Orchestra's representative; Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, director of the Legislative Reference Service in the Library of Congress, the Community War Fund's representative and entertainers provided by the V.C.S.

Since Dr. Hans Kindler had to leave December 3 on a 10-day concert tour, Mrs. Howe, a member of the Board of Directors and chairman of the Women's Committee of the National Symphony, spoke in behalf of the National Symphony Drive. Mrs. Howe stressed the importance of supporting a resident symphony in the nation's capital and said that "it deserves the support of everyone."

Mr. Romney spoke on the Red Cross war contribution overseas, and how the Red Cross will carry on to help the veterans at home. In line with his subject Mr. Romney stated that "besides the Red Cross regular hospital service, more than 900 recreation clubs, which ranged from large palaces to lowly army tents, were maintained overseas, as well as 500 mobile units. He closed his speech with the statement that "from his own personal experience and information."

Fox Announces Fiske Appointment

DR. JAMES H. FOX, dean of the school of education, has announced that on December 1, Dr. Charles E. Fisk will join the staff on a full-time basis as an associate professor of education.

Dr. Fisk comes to the University from the War Department where he has been attached to the Adjutant General's office as Director of Employee Training.

For the past several years Dr. Fisk has been a lecturer in education at the University, teaching a course in Employee Training on a part-time basis. He was at one time assistant principal of Roosevelt High School.

Crandall Describes Origin of Holbein's Gieze Merchant

By JO BETSY DOWNER

IN THE OFFICE of Norris I. Crandall, professor of art, are a variety of objects, including thousands of prints and slides, a pigment mixer, an oscilloscope by which he demonstrates a recording of the quality of tone.

His prize possession is a magnificent print of Hans Holbein's "Merchant of Gieze." Professor Crandall tells how, during the Industrial Revolution in England, the penniless Holbein traveled to that country, and asked the "commoner," the merchant of Gieze, if he might paint his picture. Heretofore, only the royal family had portraits painted. In breaking this tradition, Holbein established himself as a

Dorm Belles Jingle

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS party for the girls of Strong Hall will be held Tuesday, December 18, at 10 p.m., in the living room of the dorm.

Girls have been asked to draw names for humorous gifts which will be distributed from beneath the big tree, Sue Berger, council president, stated.

Pi Beta Phi Wins Cup In Cherry Tree Drive

SAE's Win in Fraternity Race;
Dot Henry Cops Individual Prize
With Total of 50 Subscriptions

PI BETA PHI sorority topped all other groups in the 1946 Cherry Tree subscription drive with Sigma Alpha Epsilon obtaining the largest number of subscription for the fraternities.

Dorothy Henry was the individual winner with 50 subscriptions.

Committee Meets

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE will meet on Monday, December 12, at noon on the first floor of Columbian House, Jim Bacon, advocate of the Student Council, announced. Members of the Election Committee are Betty Weethee, John Barbour, Ann Thaler, Gloria Menzel, Cynthia Phillips, and Herb Halberstadt.

Winners, announced by Liz Wells, substituting for Sally Dessez, circulation manager, during the intermission of the Buff and Blue dance held in the Student Club last Friday evening, sold 130, 33 and 50 books, respectively. Silver loving cups were awarded to Nancy Brenner for Pi Beta Phi and to Larry Woodward for Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A cash prize of $10 was given to Dorothy Henry.

Runners-up in the subscription drive were Delta Zeta with 79 subscriptions and Kappa Kappa Gamma with 71.

Cherry Tree sales ended last Friday at 5 p.m. with Felicia Miller, editor, announcing that the goal of 800 would be reached. Seven hundred sixty-four subscriptions had been received then and late returns were still coming in.

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Chi headed last year's subscription drive, Kappa winning the sorority cup with 62 subscriptions and the Sigma winning the fraternity cup with 32.

Harding Gets Merit Award For Service

COLONEL HAROLD F. Harding, professor of public speaking at the University, now on war service leave with the armed forces was awarded a Legion of Merit for "exceptionally meritorious services from September 25, 1944 to September 2, 1945."

Colonel Harding was responsible for organizing, training, and directing the staff which provided replacement support for operations against the Japanese. Colonel Harding's citation reads, in part: "Through his qualities of foresight, diplomacy, military proficiency, and continuous devotion to duty, Colonel Harding was of material importance to the victory of our forces in the Pacific."

He arrived overseas in January, 1942. He previously served as Assistant G-1, Army Forces Pacific Ocean Areas, and as commanding officer of the 16th Coast Artillery, a part of the harbor defense of Honolulu. For his conspicuous performance in these assignments, he was awarded a Bronze Star Medal.

Colonel Harding has had an outstanding educational background, having received his AB from Hamilton College in '25, and his MA in '29, and his Ph.D. in '37 from Cornell University. Upon discharge, he plans to return to the University to resume his position as professor of public speaking.

Professors' Talks Highlight Luncheon

INFORMAL TALKS in Spanish and French, given by Mrs. Caskie and Professor Alonso, were the highlights of the luncheon of the Romance Language department at the Faculty Club last Saturday at 1 p.m.

Eighteen professors, and instructors of Spanish, French, and Portuguese attended. They were welcomed by Henry G. Doyle, acting executive officer.

Stanford Contest Features Awards To Best Writers

FOUR CASH AWARDS in dramatic writing will be offered by the Dramatists' Alliance of Stanford University in their eleventh annual contest.

In memory of the late Miles McKinnon Anderson of the Peninsula Little Theatre, $100 will be awarded for a full length prose drama showing the sturdy constructive qualities of daily life in the North American scene.

Writers of radio plays in prose or verse may compete for the Stephen Vincent Benet Award of $50, and the Henry David Gray award of $50 is offered for dramatic criticism in lucid, vigorous style.

Although no second prizes will be given, leading honors plays and all prize-winning material will be recommended to producing and publishing units of established worth.

Final date of the season's competitions is March 20th, 1946. Interested writers should send for registration forms and information as soon as possible. Communications should be addressed to Dramatists Alliance, Box 200 Z, Stanford University, California.

Fraternity Hears Woman Speaker For First Time

AT THE RECENT meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi, the professional accounting fraternity, heard Mrs. Elliott Schutt, retired personnel officer of the Hecht Co. of Washington, the first woman speaker ever to address the fraternity.

Topic for discussion was "Personnel Administration." The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 12 at 8:30 p.m. in Columbian House.

Dr. A. Rex Johnson, assistant director of the Office of Foreign Agriculture Relations, at a meeting on November 12, chose as his topic "Marketing Conditions in the United States and South America."

An acknowledged authority on this subject, Dr. Johnson has recently returned from an extended business trip to South America on behalf of the Department of Agriculture and the State Department.

He stressed the fact that the South American countries are eager to learn American technical methods of experimentation, especially in the agriculture fields, and are willing to pay for any and all aid provided them.

From his recent trip and previous experience, Dr. Johnson provided the group with many interesting and useful suggestions as applied to this post-war era.

At the close of the meeting, Walter V. Lund, president of the chapter, thanked Dr. Johnson on the behalf of the entire chapter and of the alumni members and guests who attended the lecture.

portrait painter, and started a new era in that art.

When asked about various art awards he has received, as is recorded in past and present copies of Who's Who in America, Professor Crandall shrugs good-naturedly and says "old stuff!" He has been working on a book on the history of art for the past ten years, and was leafing through some of the pictures to be portrayed there when we entered his office.

Professor Crandall, a bachelor, has four adopted sons: Arnold, an aerial radioman; Dohn, 22, an Ensign in the Navy; Paige, 21, a Navy pilot now in Japan, and Donald, 29, now in Washington.

Buff 'n' Blue Features Student Entertainment

• INTERMISSION entertainment featuring singers, dances, and a glass-eater highlighted the first Buff 'n' Blue of the year last Friday night in the Student Club.

Under the direction of Co-Directors Betty Starkey and Dick Generelly the "dry night club" opened its doors to a sizeable group which spent the evening drinking cokes and dancing to the music of Richard Strange and his Strange Six.

Intermission time was the occasion for traditional performances by student talent. Lead-off spot on the first show of the year was given to Ted Dotson, who sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and, for an encore, "I'll Get By." Ted, who is president of PIKA fraternity, recently won a singing contest in a local night club and a free trip to New York to sing with Jimmy Dorsey's Orchestra.

Some stir was raised when John Barbour demonstrated the art of eating razor blades and light bulbs. The question is still being asked, "Did he really eat 'em?" But, according to Barbour's own statement, he actually did stomach one Gem razor blade and two Mazda light bulbs.

Finale of the evening came when a chorus of football fans, Philadelphia-bound for the recent Army-Navy game, did a Victory soft-shoe dance. The group was made up of Bob Cook, Jughead Jones, Paul Barnard and Warren Clark.

Lee Herald furnished piano accompaniment for all acts and Director Generelly acted as master of ceremonies.

Education Honorary Initiates 8 Women

• INITIATION OF EIGHT new members of Alpha Theta chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, education honorary, will take place Saturday at the Lee Sheraton Hotel at 6 p.m.

Those being initiated are Mrs. Helen C. Friauf, Mrs. Helen Pearlman Garson, Mary Betty Kidd, Frances Ervin, Mrs. Camilla Moody Payne, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Sand, Marian Keefe Pate and Clara Barnett.

Miss Muna Lee of the State Department will speak at the dinner which follows.

Student Bar Association Holds First Meeting for This Year

• FIRST MEETING of the Student Bar Association of the Law School will be held on Tuesday, December 11, at 6:20 p.m., in Room 10 of the Law School. At that time the Association's plans for the year will be outlined and discussed.

President Robert H. Reiter will also introduce the other recently elected officers: Samuel Pinn, Jr., first vice-president; John H. Geiger, second vice-president, and Lynn Kaufman, secretary-treasurer.

After the business meeting, Mr. Spencer Gordon, prominent Washington attorney, will address the association. Evening classes will convene following the meeting.

On the following Thursday, December 14, at 8 p.m., the association is sponsoring an informal gathering for the law students and faculty. This will be held at Columbian House, 21st and G Streets. All law students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend, President Reiter said.

Big Sisters To Discover Old University

• DEAN ELMER Louis Kayser will be guest speaker at the second Big Sister tea which will be held Friday, December 13, in the living room of Strong Hall at 4 p.m. Barbara Stellwagen, president, revealed.

"History of the University" will be the title of Dean Kayser's talk, to be given at 5 p.m. Mothers of both Big and Little Sisters are invited to attend.

• ALL BIG SISTERS are requested to call Nora Dubin at Strong Hall and get the telephone numbers of their Little Sisters and call them and invite them to the tea which will be held December 13.

At the tea held last Thursday in Strong Hall, Big and Little Sisters became acquainted with each other. Big Sisters paid their dues, which is 50 cents per semester, and both groups received their membership cards for this year.

Sample Believes Campus Hangout Needs Enlarging

By ADRIENNE BARRY

• ACCORDING to the opinions expressed by students during a poll conducted by The Hatchet this week, the Student Club, though a wonderful place to hang out, should be enlarged and improved to meet the demands of an ever-increasing student body.

The greatest reaction was in the nature of a complaint that either the service at the lunch counter is becoming worse, or the "feeding" facilities provided by the Club have become more inadequate. Many suggestions were made as to how improvements might be put into effect.

Betty Miller, senior: "I think some provision should be made to give the students a hot-plate lunch. It's pretty hard to get through a whole day and then the evening on just a sandwich and a coke. Of course there are other places to eat, but most students have to resort to the Student Club for meals, as a time saver and a matter of convenience."

Verna Wolf, sophomore: "My biggest complaint is the food served. Since so many students have to eat there, it seems to me that an effort should be made to provide a greater variety of food and some hot dishes, especially during the winter months. The Club should be open later in the evenings to take care of the numerous day-school students who have to stay down for evening classes, as well as the night students who have so little opportunity to gather there."

Dorothy Caplan, freshman: "I think that something should be done about the congested conditions at lunch time. The lines are long, the service is slow, and there is seldom a place to sit. Perhaps if there were a special girl behind the counter to take care of mass orders, the line would move faster and service would be better. As for the crowded conditions there is only one thing to do—eventually enlarge it. A school of this size (See POLL, Page 6)

• A LOT OF FUNNY things happen to Herbie Halberstadt while working at his desk in The Hatchet office. One Saturday, while the University switchboard was closed and all calls on NA. 5200 came in to him he had two most interesting requests. The first came from a stenographer who was transcribing dictation and wanted to know how to spell "finagling." Not being able to find it in the dictionary, he said: "The consensus of opinion (meaning his) is that it's spelled f-i-n-a-g-l-i-n-g."

Not long afterwards, the phone rang again. This time a voice said: "This is . . . Jewelers. We're repairing a watch belonging to President Truman. Besides the ordinary minute hands this has a hand that indicates the days of the week. Could you tell us what the following abbreviations mean? Lun? Mer? etc." Hatchet labors have some compensation after all!

Harmon Plans Two Recitals For Glee Club

• SPECIAL CHRISTMAS presentation of the University Glee Club will be the performance of "The Christ Child Cantata," to be given at the meeting of the American Association of University Women, on December 17, at 5:00 p.m.

Dr. Robert Harmon, director of the Glee Club, will conduct the performance.

Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, chairman, of the Arts Group of the University Women's Association, is responsible for the musical program. Gifts for the new University hospital will be presented at this meeting by the members of the Association.

Dr. Harmon announced that the Glee Club also will sing for the International College of Surgeons at their meeting at the Mayflower Hotel on December 8.

Several selections, including Handel's "Messiah," are being planned for the University Christmas assembly, scheduled for December 20 in Lisner Auditorium.

French Students To Hear Lectures On Current Topics

• FRENCH STUDENTS of the University, and all others interested in the French language, are invited by the Recreation Association of the Department of State to attend a series of six lectures which will be given in French.

The lectures are to be on topics of current interest and will be delivered by distinguished Frenchmen, in the Auditorium of the New Interior Department Building, C Street between 18th and 19th.

First of the series will be at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 13. Speaker of the evening will be His Excellency Henri Bonnet, the French Ambassador to the United States.

Others in the series will be held on Mondays, January 21, February 18, March 18, April 15 and May 20. All persons who anticipate attending the series should inform the Program Director, Mr. Edmund Caskie, 809 Hill Building.

Historic Statue "Lords It" Over Moccasin-Clad Students

By JEAN FERGUSON

• WHILE IT IS NOT widely known, the original of the statue of George Washington which stands in the lobby of the University Library has a past almost as exciting as that of Washington itself.

Work was started on the original in 1785 by a famous French artist, Jean Antoine Houdon, at the request of the Virginia

In three cases and shipped to America.

As the statue was the property of the state of Virginia, it was immediately placed in the capitol rotunda at Richmond. Dedication ceremonies were not held until 1931, when the statue was dedicated by Governor Pollard.

In the meanwhile, in 1853 the Virginia Assembly finally gave permission for the statue to be copied and six replicas were made in bronze by William J. Hubbard, an artist. In 1910 the Gorham Company, which made the replica in the University Library was given permission to make additional copies of the statue.

The statue owned by the University was presented by the Columbian Women. For a time it stood on the campus in back of the Law School. Then when the Library was finished it was moved into the lobby, where it still stands, powdered wig, epaulettes and all, gazing unperturbably at the sloppy-joe, moccasin clad students of today.

Chinese Engineers Train Here

Feiker Organizes Technical Program; Two Nations Act

• FACULTY MEMBERS of the Schools of Engineering and of Government participated this month in the Technical Orientation Program for 1,200 Chinese engineers, with staff members from Johns Hopkins University.

The students were housed on the campus at Georgetown University where classes were also held.

The program, under the general direction of Professor Paul A. Eaton, of Lafayette University acting for the International Training Administration, was financed by the governments of the United States and China.

A special three weeks course in Industrial Management was organized under the direction of the Dean Frederick Feiker, University School of Engineering, and was administered by the Extension Division.

Members of the faculty participating in the general program, as well as in the special Industrial Management Course, included Dean Feiker, who acted as associate director of the Technical Orientation Program and as counselor for electrical, mechanical, and management groups of students.

Also taking part were associate professor, Carl H. Walther, counselor with the civil engineering groups, Dr. Arthur F. Johnson of the School of Engineering, and H. D. Kennedy, and Dr. R. N. Owens, professors of accounting and business administration.

After an orientation period varying from three weeks to two months the Chinese engineers and technicians have been placed in American industries for specialized experience and will return to China as technical specialists in many fields.

DeLacy to Review China's Position At Youth Meeting

• TONIGHT, THURSDAY, at 8 p. m., at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church, 9th and Massachusetts Avenue, N. Parents, Teachers Hear Dr. Ruskin

• THE WEEKLY meeting of the Parent Teachers Institute was held yesterday at the Hall of Government. Dr. James H. Fox, Dean of the School of Education, presided over the meeting and introduced as the principal speaker Rev. John Ruskin from the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church, who spoke on the "Philosophy of Youth."

Rev. Ruskin's talk was followed by a panel discussion with representatives from eight district schools taking part.

The students, appointed by their student councils, discussed Behavior Problems of Youth, and what should be done to correct them.

Dean Fox, who was moderator for the two groups, summarized the discussions and said in part "When we criticize youth we should consult youth first and get their side of the story."

Most fraternities on campus are, at the present time, diligently working on their individual presentations. Several have refused to divulge any information whatsoever. Some hint of the "broad" variety which we can expect, however, is shown by the S.A.E. pageant, "The Dark Ages, or Forever Amber," in contrast with Phi Sig's "Fireman, Spare My Child, or Chastity Preserved." Theta Delt is preparing the "Scandals of 1945."

Awards for the event have in the past been among the most keenly competed for of all prizes. Phi Sigma Kappa took the title in 1942, and considerable competition, from all reports, is expected this year. A prize is given not only for the most excellent skit, but a booby prize goes to the—ah, shall we say—least artistic?

Judging committee will be comprised of one candidate each from the eleven sororities.

Whittington Talks To Phi Delta Delta

• CLOSING THE FORMAL legal rushing season, Zeta chapter of Phi Delta Delta gave a dinner last Thursday at the Sulgrave Club.

Principal speakers of the evening were Mrs. Vashti B. Whittington, former assistant attorney General of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Phoebe Morrison, former professor of law at Yale. Toast of welcome was given by Nadine Gallagher of Washington School of Law.

Bids were sent out by the two legal sororities, Phi Delta Delta and Kappa Beta Pi, last Tuesday and will be signed not later than 5 p.m. Saturday, December 8. This is a period of silence during which the rushees may communicate only with the presiding officers of the chapter.

Regular business meeting of Phi Delta Delta will be held tonight at the LaSalle apartments. President Lou Nora Spiller announced.

Skin and Bones

The medic's social season got off to a (literally) howling start Thanksgiving Eve with the Freshman-Sophomore Dance at the Hamilton Hotel. The frosh got kind-hearted and invited the upper-classmen, too. The result was the largest mob of med students we have ever seen except on the steps of Hall A Saturday at noon. Though it was the dampest evening of many weeks—both inside and out—the party suffered not at all.

Everybody who stayed in town over the unexpected long holiday must have been there. All night energetic males were scouting the hotel to corral a few extra chairs so that their dates at least could have a seat. And securing a waiter and set-ups was an achievement worthy of a campaign ribbon.

Dr. Cal, the freshmen's guardian angel, kept up his tradition of never missing a student social event, and seemed to be having a big time even in the absence of his cute little wife.

Freshmen are all still very much in a dither over Mike Michael's achievement in getting the much-gawked-at Catherine Price, glamorous secretary of the anatomy department, as his date for the big event. The very popular front-office secretaries, Mary Lou and Ann, were having their usual wonderful time. Mary Lou with some enterprising freshman lad whose identity we never discerned.

Jack Segal is still taking much kidding about what a sharp date he must be. His very attractive date was asleep on his shoulder a large part of the evening. And the very ethereal wife of one of the newly-wed sophs has received the name of "The Madonna of the Bottle." Ask 'em why—maybe they'll tell.

Altogether, whatever other traditions of student life may have fallen by the wayside during the past few years, those in regard to the inimitable quality of med student social life seem to be well maintained by the present generation. More gaiety along similar lines is in store for the future doctors next month. The sophs are planning a dance of their own, probably during the second week of December, but plans are still a bit uncertain due to a nebulousness about the exact location. The Nu Sigs have scheduled a party at the Potomac Boat Club on December 8, and we've been hearing discussions about a Phi Chi stag party and a possible dance in the not-too-far "offing."

The med school breathed a collective sigh of relief last week when word of the arrival of Margo Snow's baby girl began to spread around. We've been trying to persuade her cousin that since the proud papa isn't here to do the honors, that he should pass the cigars. Little Margaret Throckmorton Snow's unofficial godmothers, Margo's Alpha Epsilon Iota sisters, have already figured their god-child as a prospective member of the freshman medical class of 1966.

A.F.A. King, honorary obstetrical society, posted the list of newly elected members last week. The group is composed of the 15 students making the highest grades in sophomore OB. Since then another set of grades have come out and there was great astonishment over the results on the part of some of the honorees who weren't aware of the basis for election and who have evidently not fared so well in more recent months. Those surprised and otherwise were: Ted Bars, DeLora Fowler, Bob Hodges, Karl Klopfenstein, William McAvoy, Havin Mankin, Bob Martin, Joe Niswonger, William Orsinger, Fred Shillinger, Jose Silva, Harley Graeves, George Collins, James Mann and Steve Mills.

And if the pathology department doesn't get some of our exams back to us poor sophomores pretty soon, we're not going to be in a condition to even write another line of this stuff.

should have a cafeteria to take care of its students."

Farlee Ames, freshman, "The Student Club is entirely too small. There are so many activities going on at the same time that the place is usually a mad house. Eating, playing bridge, ticket selling, voting, campaigning, soliciting, and countless other activities take place during the crowded lunch hour conditions—all of which seems to indicate that more space is needed. What happened to the proposed Student Union Building? There is an acute need for some sort of recreational building that the Student Club is insufficient for. The situation might be alleviated if lunches were available to resident students at the Faculty Club."

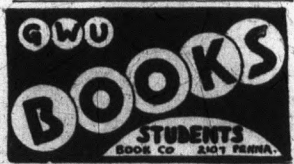

Jan Lawson, freshman, "I am pretty well satisfied with the Student Club as is. It affords an opportunity to see and meet people that would be pretty impossible in a school of this size without the Club. Plans should be made, however, to enlarge it, because it is a little too crowded to be comfortable."

Rita Roman, freshman, "I have often wished that we could dance during the day in the Student Club. There is already the nickelo-dean and it certainly would be a means of relaxation. Of course, it's much too crowded already. I hope that plans are progressing for the Student Union Building. A school this size certainly needs a place the students can call their own."

John B. McClure, freshman, "The Student Club should be open later than 7 o'clock, because there is absolutely no place to go if one has night classes. Some arrangement should be made to serve at least one hot meal during the day for students who are down at school all day and often into the night. Eventually some sort of recreational building should be provided—the Student Club isn't adequate."

Helen Mowbray, freshman, "I think that the Student Club should definitely be open on Saturday, as it is a regular school day. Because of the increased enrollment, plans should be made for a regular cafeteria where students can get hot food."

Crystal Ball Sees 1948 Coed Threatening Football World

By JOHN BARBOUR

• STADIUM SQUARE, one of the highlights of our glorious campus, is the breathtaking wonder of the architectural world located behind the Hall of Government. For some odd reason, I was in anything but the proper mood for the lecture on a recent afternoon, so I spent some fifty-odd minutes in gazing at this lovely structure, which, incidentally, is fully protected and encircled by a knee-high wooden fence.

Upon the greensward, a couple of turf guys were tossing a football idly back and forth. (A "football idly" is a football that's tired of it all.) It was a scene to make a sportsman's blood rise—sports and good fellowship—here at one and the same field.

Suddenly my eyes were diverted to a corner of the field where several figures were galloping to the scene of action. Clad in dungarees and sweat shirts, they gave the impression of rugged power. I thought that their hair was a bit long, and to myself I said, "Why don't these freshmen get haircuts?" Suddenly I realized that these characters were not men nor even freshmen, but young flet mignons from Strong Hall.

Girls' Stuff!

Now we were going to see a few games such as "Drop the hanky, please," or "I have a cold, so let's blow." But no! With a scream that shattered windows for blocks, one girl motioned to the fellows to toss the football her way.

With a run that would have made Gunder Haegg blush for shame, this young lass started sprinting, ready to receive a pass that would not be objectionable. A girl catch a football? Impossible! This female Sammy Baugh, however, donned her oxygen mask, climbed high into the stratosphere, and brought down the football in admirable fashion. Putting my eyes back in their sockets, I watched these lassies run, pass and kick without a fumble. (The two fellows had long ago returned to a corner (See CRYSTAL, Page 7))

Choose Eisemann,
Hill as Runners-up

• BUCKY LEVITAN of Georgetown's Mu Sigma fraternity captured the throne to reign over Hillel Councilship's first annual Ball of Fire last Saturday as Washington's "Apollo of 1945."

Lynn Allison, singer at the Capitol Theater, and Mike Hunnicutt, announcer of radio station WWDC, selected Bucky as the ideal man over Edward Hill of Theta Delta Chi and Ben Eisenman, of Sigma Alpha Rho, second and third place "men in waiting."

As a fitting reward, "Ideal Man" Levitan received a set of "Apollo" men's toiletries, contributed by Lysanda, manufacturers of this line. The runners-up also received "Apollo" toilet articles.

With Bill Strickland's music setting the tempo, and the Kaplowitz Accordionettes adding a musical beat, the dance paced to a climax when the eight contestants marched before Judges Allison and Hunnicutt to display their qualifications as ideal men.

Other competitors for the "Apollo" title were: Ehud Cohen, Tau Epsilon Phi; Paul Kanowsky, Tau Epsilon Phi, Maryland University chapter; Pat Murphy, Phi Sigma Kappa; Bernie Ehrlich, Phi Alpha, and Frank Davis, Georgetown University.

Social Chairman Rusty Schiff stated that the dance was a huge success and anticipates even greater successes in succeeding annual "Balls of Fire."

• EDITOR'S NOTE: Gerry Feld, former sports writer and now one of Uncle Sam's boys, wrote his opinions on the basketball situation. His views were begun last week and were broken into two installments.

Continuing, he says—

Of course the club will face the Southern Conference and that is not a joke, now or any time. I haven't seen the boys in a scrimmage, or in any drills of any sort for that matter, but I do know that if Laddie Reichwein is anywhere near his past form, we (not the editorial prerogative, but simply because I still feel that way) should field a pretty fair ball team. And Doc expects Laddie to be just as good, if not better, than he ever was. I know Joe Giovachinni is no ball of fire, and may not even make the starting five, but his presence on the squad as the steady, dependable player he is, should do a lot for the calmness and coolness of the team under fire.

I understand that quite a few ex-GI's are on the team and I know from experience that these boys are out for blood. There has always been plenty of competitive spirit among the Vets here at school and here is a chance for them to really strut their stuff. I can say now without knowing too much about these boys that they will be out to play ball every inch of the way.

That's about all I have to say about the team for now, but I expect to say a lot more on future furloughs. And the answer to that big question in the minds of all my friends (and I hope I still have some) is—NO, I don't expect to be out fairly soon!

STORY . . . Rolling into the last quarter a team had possession of the ball but on the short end of a 61-0 score. On the first play the quarterback was injured. Looking over the play the coach spotted a lad who had been out only three days.

"Go in!" he said. "Call one through the middle, one around end, and then punt." On the first play, the fullback went over center for 30 yards. On the next play, the left half skirted the end to advance the ball to the enemy's 6-yard line. Then, following instructions to the letter, the quarterback punted.

Sports Writers, Coaches Pick "True" All-American Players

• ALL COLLEGIATE basketball coaches and leading basketball writers are being invited to participate in the selection of an all-American basketball team for this year sponsored by True Magazine, a Fawcett publication. These True All-Americans, outstanding court performers of the 1945-46 hoop season, will be classified into first, second, and third teams.

Acknowledged authorities, both coaches and writers, see all the leading major and minor games during a basketball season, and their evaluation of the leading players should give a satisfactory and comprehensive list of the season's court luminaries.

These selections will take into consideration the merits of all players from colleges and universities of both small and large enrollment. By virtue of the fact that so many coaches are involved in the poll and that basketball is so intercollegiate, the various coaches and writers have the opportunity to witness, view, judge, and compare the play and abilities of players in all the basketball areas of the country.

At the end of the basketball season, Fawcett Publications will present awards to these True All-Americans at a sports dinner in New York City. It is believed by the editors of True Magazine that more than 3,000 ballots will be cast by coaches and writers. All ballots will be held confidentially by the editors and the correct tabulation will be supervised by a certified public accountant.

tion at his disposal he had come to the conclusion that the only way to handle veterans as citizens was to help them become part of the citizenry, and not to isolate them into separate groups."

Mr. Griffith closed the program with a talk entitled "Democracy for Washington," in which he stated that "the central purpose of the Community War Fund is to build in Washington the democratic values for which we fought the war."

Chuck Wallace, co-chairman of the All-University Drive, preceded the speakers with a short talk in which he explained to the audience that the purpose of the All-University Drive was to combine all of these various charity efforts into one big drive for the convenience of the students and the faculty.

Musical entertainment was furnished by V.S.C. entertainers Hazel Morton, accordionist; Mildred Kirke, popular singer, and Jane Walling, tap dancer. Erno Valesco, an outstanding violinist from the Army Air Forces Band and formerly with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Team Drills As Season Looms

Colonials to Open Campaign Against Fort Meade Cagers

• WITH THE first game of the basketball season scheduled for December 14, against Ft. Meade, the eyes of the University are turned once more toward the winter sport.

Since President Marvin's favorable decree concerning basketball three weeks ago, the gymnasium has been crowded with hopeful cagers. Of these, Coach Arthur Zahn has chosen 15 to represent the University on the court.

The varsity strength has been augmented by Laddie Reichwein, holdover from the '42-'43 championship team. The remainder of the roster is made up of former high school players, with one exception, Ralph O'Brien, transfer from Catholic University.

In order to qualify for Southern Conference play, the team must play eight members of the Southern loop. Thus far, five of the necessary number of games have been contracted for. Going on the assumption that they win five league tilts, the team may enter the Southern Conference elimination tournament, which is held annually at Raleigh, North Carolina. At the present time, though, without knowledge of the strength of his opponents, Coach Zahn suggests an even chance for tourney participation.

Of late, the hoopsters have had three scrimmages. These informal games brought out the fact that the team is trying hard and with polishing should be an above average squad.

of the field and now sat there pouting!

Football Lasses

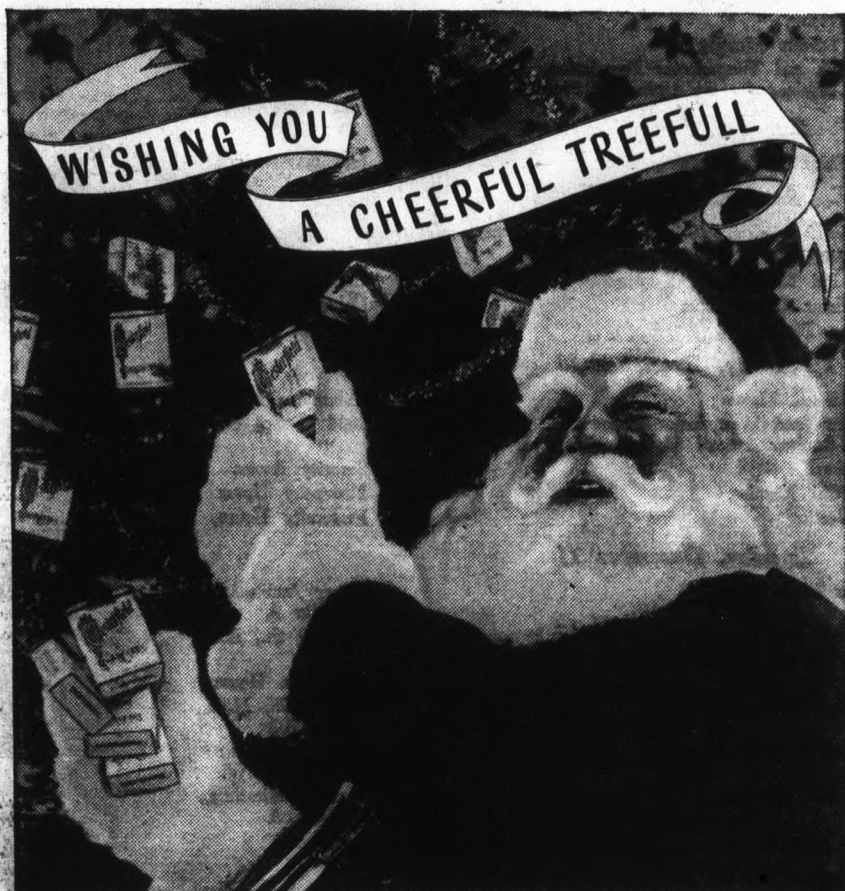

Perhaps all of this sounds like idle chatter, but now comes my point. Do you, dear students, realize the impression, or should I say scar, this may make on the world of sports? Man's supremacy in the football world, the entire field, is threatened. What may come of it? Borrowing a crystal ball, we focus an eye to the future, 1948. A flick of the switch and our radio brings us the action! Our usual Saturday afternoon football game. Usual? Listen!

"Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen," this is "Starkey" Husing speaking to you from the beautiful G. W. U. stadium in downtown Washington. A beautiful site, this stadium, set in the midst of towering apartment houses. We're going to bring you today the football game between the girls of G. W. U. and Peroxide Tech. It promises to be a thriller, but "def!"

Dotty Stars

"The teams are on the field, and it's about time for the kick-off. Peroxide will kick. Here's Dotty Farkas approaching the ball. Her foot connects with a terrific crash! (Dotty's feet are clad in those smart new wedgies.) Goodness! The ball is going high into the air, and it's taken by Gloria "Scat-back" Poole on her 5-yard line. She's up to the 10, the 20, almost tackled by Diana Roosevelt, but she got away. She's on the 35—some wonderful broken field running—the 45, and she's finally brought down on her 48. Heavens to Betsy! What a run! But wait! Peroxide is penalized 15 yards for pulling hair and scratching. G. W. U. takes time out to replace a broken garter of Ann Hirst; so while we're waiting, here's a word from our sponsor, Ittzo-Blitzo Elbow grease."

That's it, fellows. All I can stand. Think it over, and see what you make of it. It's something to ponder and wonder about. Is man's place in a university sporting world lost? I leave you with that happy thought.
